RECOGNITION PROGRAM

About the Learn Green Summit and the Green Schools Recognition Program...

Pine Jog Environmental Education Center/Florida Atlantic University and the Palm Beach County School District will host South Florida's second annual Learn Green: Green Schools Conference & Expo on October 15, 2010, 8:00 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. on the campus of Palm Beach Central High School in West Palm Beach.

Learn Green will provide a forum to share innovative and effective practices, facilitate professional development, encourage cooperative initiatives and share technical assistance. The event will feature sessions and exhibits that will share innovative ideas and resources for greening school practices and curriculum that schools can implement right away.

Learn Green sessions will include: Green School Recognition Program Workshop, Growing Green with Hydroponics, Greening through Art, Building Butterfly Gardens, Green Schools Roundtable, Low and No Cost Solutions to Going Green, Recycling 101, Touring A Green School, and much, much more.

Learn Green is a key component of a larger initiative, the Palm Beach County Green Schools Recognition Program (GSRP). The Green Schools Recognition Program aims to encourage schools to create cultures of sustainability and learning that will empower our students to envision and then create a more sustainable future.

The GSRP is funded by a grant from the Community Foundation for Palm Beach and Martin Counties. Community sponsors include The Solid Waste Authority and the Audubon Society of the Everglades. At the end of the 2010 school year, twenty-six schools were honored for their commitment to "greening" their school's practices and curriculum. Cash prizes were awarded to the top winners.
